Make no mistake about the worth and the value that you, the serving police officers, make to the state of NSW every day, week and month of every year.

Premier Gladys Berejiklian had this to say in the Association's magazine in June: "The professionalism shown by the NSW police during these challenging times develops a mutual trust and respect between police and civilians which will stand NSW in good stead going forward".

So Gladys, isn't it time to go forward with our Award? It would mean a lot for our mutual trust and respect.
